

Call for contributions for n° 33 (2024) of the Maghreb review of documentation and information

Dear colleagues,

The Revue Maghrébine de Documentation et d'Information (RMDI) is an annual peer-reviewed academic journal, published regularly by the Higher Institute of Documentation - University of Manouba (Tunisia) since 1983. It publishes articles on information science, librarianship and archiving, in three languages (Arabic, French and English). It will appear in two versions: paper form and electronic form.

The ISD supports the model of free access to scientific publications (Open Access). The last nine issues (2013-2021) of RMDI are available online for free access at the following URL:

www.revue-uma.rnu.tn.

The other issues will be posted online soon. All articles in the next issue will be available in Open Access under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 license.

We are asking for your contribution for the next issue of the journal (n°33/2024). Please submit your articles before April 30, 2024 directly on the website of the journal indicated above after (having created an account) or send it by email to: rmdi@isd.uma.tn.

The theme of the issue will be: Artificial Intelligence and digital humanities

In case of submission on the site and to maintain anonymity and facilitate the evaluation of articles, you are asked to submit your article in Word format while removing the name of the author and affiliation. These metadata will be indicated when deposited on the platform.

In case of access difficulties, please contact: mohamedsalah.kadri@isd.uma.tn

Please broadcast this appeal on your networks.

Sincerely

The Scientific Committee of the journal